ABOUT US...

Wanting to get back to traditions and our roots, we came up with the idea of producing homemade brandy. The Simex Original company is located at the very north of Serbia, in Subotica, and since its foundation in 1991, it's been aiming to develop its own production facilities and to develop technological processes in line with European and international standards. Longtime effort and continuous improvement have made Simex become one of the most modern producers of fruit brandies and spirits in our country today.

Modern generation of brandies

We are building a modern tradition! As a result of continuous work and monitoring the changes in the habits and demands of consumers, we have decided to offer our consumers a modern range of products, of distinctive traditional quality.
